

HAIRSPPLITTING ARGUMENT ON TAP

(From Wednesday's Daily.)
A fine question has arisen for the "wise" ones to puzzle their heads over. It is whether it is possible for Yavapai county to have two sheriffs and four members of the board for four days between January 1 and January 4, 1915?

The Arizona constitution says that the terms of county officials expire on the first Monday in January, each alternate year subsequent to the general election, while the statutes of the state declare that newly elected county officials shall take charge of their offices on the first day of January after they shall have been elected, or words to that effect. Thus, according to the constitution it would be impossible to deprive an old official of his office until January 4th, and according to the law it would be impossible to keep a newly elected official from taking charge of the official position which he was elected to fill on the first day of January. William Stephens, chairman of the board, sees no way to avoid having two sheriffs and four members of the board for four days if all parties concerned insist on their rights, and yet the constitution provides for but one sheriff and three members of the board.

The question caused considerable argument yesterday wherever it was sprung. Of course the constitution takes precedence of any statute, so far as authority is concerned, but some people argue that in the case referred to it would require a court decision before the officials concerned would be legally warranted to act in the matter either way.

There is no contest or likely to be, however, but the discrepancy between the constitution and statutes is quite noticeable at this time.

TO RENEW FIGHT ON LEGISLATIVE AGENT

PHOENIX, Dec. 15.—The fight which has heretofore been waged on Frank Brown, opposing his occupying the position of legislative agent of the Arizona State Federation of Labor will be renewed according to a letter received here today from Miami. A recall against Brown was initiated and a vote of the members of the federation taken which although not officially certified indicated that Brown had not been recalled. It is now proposed by those of the unions of the state which are opposed to Brown to withhold their assessment money which had been ordered paid for his financial support during the session of the legislature.

At the time the state labor convention was held there were 3,023 members of the federation in good standing. By reason of Arizona having voted prohibition, charters of various locals will be surrendered which will reduce the membership to less than 2,000. The assessment was 22 cents per capita on the membership. About 40 per cent of the 2,000 members will refuse to pay their assessment for a legislative agent consequently present indications are that labor will be without a representative when Arizona's solons convene.

MINING REVIVAL INDICATED BY BUSINESS

(From Thursday's Daily.)
No better index of the mining situation at the present time in this field can be given than what was announced yesterday by the Arizona Mine Supply Co., of this city, when an attaché made the assertion that the sales this month were a surprise, and exceeded those of any one month since the first of the year.

In fact it was stated, this December was a remarkably heavy one in materials furnished the various old and new camps springing up, and was not confined to any particular locality, but extended to the mining field at large adjacent to this city.

Not alone is the receipt of big orders the banner one for the year, but likewise are present conditions an indication that the mining business seems to have entered on a substantial footing from the character of the goods and wares sold. Another favorable feature of the large amount of supplies sent out to the camps, is that the bulk was for permanent development, and assessment work was not taken into consideration, although it may be properly stated that this line of mine work this year has attained much more interest than in many years.

The camps supplied by this local firm are within a radius of twenty miles of this city, although the Bradshaws, the Black Canyon, Copper Creek east of Mayer, the Black Hills, Zonia, Congress Junction, and others were heavy patrons. Another factor in the business of heavy hardware sales was that of Maney Brothers, who are building the big dam of the Hassayampa Alfalfa Farms Co. on Granite Creek.

Big business in mines and mining seems to have set in, and along lines of careful investment, and without any coloring whatever of the wildcat era.

TWO TAX CASES SETTLED OUT OF COURT

(From Wednesday's Daily.)
Another brief session of the superior court was held yesterday, Judge Smith presiding, in which some motions for dismissal of cases were passed on and one probate question and some tax suits settled.

The court overruled the motion of defendants to dismiss the case entitled the Kay Copper Company vs. Wilson Foster et al, and also denied the motion to dissolve the attachment in the case. Daniel E. Parks was entered in the suit as another attorney for the plaintiff.

By motion of the county attorney, through Assistant J. H. Morgan, the tax suits against the Lucky Star Mining Company and the Fair Oaks Orchard Company were dismissed, the defendants having paid the taxes alleged to have been due.

The county attorney has filed about one hundred tax collection cases against delinquent taxpayers for the year 1913.

Allowance Granted.

Mrs. W. T. King, administratrix of the estate of her deceased husband, asked the court to set aside an allowance for the support of the family and also to set aside the homestead for the use of the family, pending the settlement of the estate, which request was granted.

GREAT PROGRESS IN JEROME SCHOOL

(From Friday's Daily.)

According to reports reaching the office of County Superintendent Miller, the prosperity and growth of the school at Jerome is little less than phenomenal.

A new school building was erected at that place last year, at a cost of $25,000, and this magnificent new structure was the means of giving an impetus to school work there which has been accelerated with each passing day until now the enrollment is 492, as against 333 one year ago. The new building is equipped with every educational improvement to make the school one of the most modern in the northern part of the state. It contains a fine auditorium where many entertainments have been held, and which has been of inestimable value to the town in more ways than one. A new course of study came with the dedication of the building which has been gradually enlarged to embrace all the courses possessed by the best high schools in the country, affording four courses to pupils, among which are included scientific, musical, classical and commercial departments, in addition to a first-class manual training attachment. The teaching force has doubled in the meantime, there being eighteen teachers now as against nine two years ago. One of these is a music teacher. Another notable improvement is that of drawing, a study which has been added to both grades as well as the high school. A course in cooking and sewing has also been provided for the grades and it is the plan to soon extend this beneficial course to the high school.

Mr. Miller says that the past twelve months have seen greater progress in all the schools of the county than ever before during a similar length of time, and that the Jerome school is one of the most notable in the whole list. Camp Verde is also soon to have a fine new building and with it will come facilities for the revolutionizing of school work there. The school outlook in Yavapai county is indeed flattering.

SEEKS TO SET ASIDE BIG JUDGMENT

Suit was filed in the superior court yesterday by Daniel E. Parks for J. L. Deming against Robert L. Morrison, which has as its object the setting aside of the judgment obtained by Mr. Morrison against the Saratoga Gold Mining Company for $11,395, the vacation of the execution under which the property was seized by the sheriff and the cancellation of any deed which may have been issued in favor of Morrison as a result of such execution.

The complaint alleges that the mining company which is named defendant was organized November 16, 1901 with 1,500,000 shares at a par value of one dollar each. H. William Stevens is president of the company and Allen Hill vice-president and secretary. The complaint alleges that Hill is confidential secretary of Mr. Morrison, and that all parties named are stockholders, the plaintiff owning 50,000 shares. It also alleges that the judgment is illegal, fraudulent and void, and was obtained by conspiracy of the defendant and Messrs. Hill and Stevens, and states that the company has been damaged to the extent of one hundred thousand dollars as a result. The complaint is lengthy and goes into the details of every proposition which can have a bearing on the case.

Another suit.
Suit was filed in the office of the superior court by J. William Waara against A. C. Miller for the collection of a balance of $149.40 alleged to be due the plaintiff on account. The original amount of the account is alleged to have been $224.40 and a credit of $75 is noted.

RICH HILL ACTIVE.

(From Saturday's Daily.)

George Fuller, who arrived from the Octave section yesterday reported placer mining as again lively, both on the lowlands and on the higher elevations, to the summit of Rich Hill. No big nugget as yet had been recovered, and only fine dust was seen. There are estimated to be over fifty men at work while along Weaver gulch several Mexican women are panning.

BIG STORAGE DAM WILL SOON BE REALITY

(From Friday's Daily.)

Actual dam construction on Granite Creek begins Saturday morning, was the important announcement made yesterday by H. G. Wells. The plan is to rush the structure to completion without a moment's delay, if weather conditions permit.

A vast amount of preliminary work was necessary, all of which was finished yesterday, including the laying of the forms for the concrete and extensive excavation for the foundation of the dam. Mr. Wells states the present flow of water will not be conserved, but after the work progresses the dam will be closed.

The massive rock breaker is running and the unloading of several cars of cement begins today, if the rain ceases. In thirty days it is anticipated the dam will have reached a sufficient height to give some idea of the immense storage to be handled, as well as all water flowing be conserved.

In the land department Chief Engineer Cookinham stated yesterday further seeding and plowing would be discontinued, as the approach of winter made it impracticable to go ahead. The force is being employed in building a new wagon road for the county at the expense of the company that will have a length of two and one-half miles. This highway is to be fenced on both sides, and will follow the city pipe line on a tangent for two miles, when it diverts at right angles to intersect the loop roadway, at the southwest corner of section twenty-seven.

The 7,000 acre tract is fenced, to prevent range stock from trespassing. The rice crop is already making its appearance, and it is the belief of Mr. Cookinham the fertility of the soil is proved by the fine growth shown. In a short time a general movement will begin in other departments. The affairs of this company are now in smooth working order, and on a basis to indicate the consummation of the great project without further delays.

FATHER RAMPANT WRITES FROM THE BATTLEFIELD

(From Friday's Daily.)

Judge F. O. Smith yesterday received a communication from Father Rene Rampant, the Catholic priest of Jerome who recently went to France to enter the service of his country in the war. It was dated at "Temporary Hospital No. 7, Departement de Verdun, the place where recently a terrific battle was fought. The letter was written November 23rd. Father Rampant is one of 11,000 Catholic priests who are with the French army in the hospital field service, and has charge of a work which goes toward the relief of the soldiers who are wounded, or afflicted with disease. The text of the letter, which will be read with interest here, is as follows:

"I am still alive but have had many narrow escapes from death. The losses on both sides have been terrible, but we (the French) still have 2,000,000 men in reserve. I have under my care from 120 to 130 patients who have typhoid fever. Many go under ground and others come to take their places. All the country is in terrible shape and for miles north and east of here is in ashes. The spirit of our troops is excellent. All the reserves ask to go to the front, although they know very well they would never return."

Father Rousselle, of Prescott, who has passed the requisite examination for the service, has not yet been called home to France, but is holding himself in readiness to depart for the battle front at a moment's notice.

BREEDING FARM IS LAUNCHED ON BIG SCALE

(From Friday's Daily.)

What ultimately will be the most extensive breeding farm of fine cattle in the state, was learned yesterday, when J. W. Sullivan, who returned from California the day before, announced that he would utilize his 5,000 acres in Williamson valley for propagating Devon cattle. To this end he shipped a few days ago to Blythe, Cal., the first shipment of 107 head of bulls and cows to be placed on winter pasture, but early in the spring they will be brought back here. The herd will be augmented also, and in the aggregate several hundred are to be introduced and the business conducted on a large scale.

This tract of land is fenced and is unoccupied at the present time. Mr. Sullivan stated also that the first shipment is registered, and the cattle were purchased recently in San Diego county, Cal. He has made a study of the cattle business after many years of being identified with the range, and is sanguine over results. The above domain is to be exclusively devoted to this industry, and a large sum will be outlayed.

ANOTHER ACTIVE CAMP NEAR SENATOR

(From Thursday's Daily.)

Advices were received from the Chicago office of the New Mexico Lead and Zinc Company, that its camp near Senator would be revived and the sinking of the main shaft an additional 100 feet would begin at once. The contract has been awarded and the purpose is to carry out exploration at other points as well.

Early in the present year this company performed limited development to prospect its holdings, and it is on the showing made that the carrying out of larger operations follows. The Breed mines are affected in this movement being acquired by the same syndicate. They adjoin on the north the Storm Cloud and are believed to be one of the strong units that embrace the Snozer, the Y-P, and other properties grouped in that mineral belt, all of which are active and producing.

WOMAN CHARGES HUSBAND WITH LARCENY

(From Friday's Daily.)

A warrant is out for the arrest of Joe Bassett, who is charged with having stolen and killed cattle belonging to King Brothers and the Arizona Land and Cattle Company, the complaint having been sworn to before Judge McLane by no less a personage than his wife, to whom he was wed about one month ago.

Mrs. Bassett came to town from Walnut Creek on December 14th and filed the complaint, stating that the officers could find the hides of the stolen cattle buried at their place. She said that Bassett had killed the cattle and threatened also to kill her if she divulged the fact, and that she was afraid of her life and concluded to leave him and turn him over to the authorities, further stating that he had left home driving a wagon toward the Ash Fork country.

Find Hides.
As soon as the complaint was filed Ed. Stephens, cattle inspector, accompanied by an officer from the sheriff's office, went to the place designated and found at least one cattle hide buried at the spot the wife had designated. This seems to be the hide of an animal belonging to the Arizona Land and Cattle Company. According to the story said to have been told by Mrs. Bassett, the defendant has been engaged in this kind of business to a wholesale extent.

Bassett has not yet been apprehended, although deputy sheriffs are on his track and hope to land him soon.

WOMEN'S COUNCIL DETERMINED TO FIGHT

(From Saturday's Daily.)

Unless their yarn knots again, the Yavapai County Council of Women Voters is going to be in the municipal mud puddle with both feet in January 15th, when the city election is held. Undaunted by their trolley flying the wire before the primary and slipping their political juggernaut back down the grade amidst the oaths and profanities, they are determined to fight. That is, they are determined to fight. That is, they are determined to fight. That is, they are determined to fight.

At the meeting last week a committee was appointed to secure the consent of Homer Wood, David H. Biles and J. L. Gardner to run against Mayor Timmerhoff, H. W. Heap and A. J. Head. Messrs. Biles and Gardner refused to do so, but the committee was not discouraged and it was understood at the time that Homer Wood gave them little encouragement. I seem this committee "kept on keeping on" after the primaries until when the club met Thursday afternoon it was able to report a ticket that could be depended on. And it is stated that there are better reasons than "just because" why they named the following who will be placed on the ticket by petition:

For Mayor, Homer Wood.
For councilmen, Ziba O. Brown and C. R. Staples.

All three of these men are well known here. Mr. Wood is connected with John Lawler, and has lived in Prescott for a long time. Mr. Brown is engaged in the abstract business and Mr. Staples is a well known mining man. From indications yesterday, the women feel sure that their ticket will be placed on the ballot. For the time being, though, they are solid to the extent of bearing their own weight.

Also Elect Officers.

The meeting was held on Thursday afternoon, but the press committee did not report the proceedings. In addition to the movement toward a municipal election fight, those present elected officers for the ensuing year, the president, Mrs. J. K. Lowry, having recently resigned. Those elected were:

President, Mrs. R. M. Buehler, wife of the manager of the Prescott telephone exchange.

Vice-President, Mrs. Lilly Smith, Secretary, Mrs. Eugene Neuman. It is stated that while there is no entire harmony in regard to the placing of a city ticket in the field, the majority of the leaders of the club are back of the movement. The first of the women to oppose the placing of the ticket was Mayor Timmerhoff and Councilman Heap and Head gave out an interview to the Journal-Miner on the subject of the city library which did not seem to please some of the leaders of the club.

ANDERSON COMES TO START UP THE R. A. M.

(From Saturday's Daily.)

"Development is to be resumed at once on the R. A. M. group of gold mines in Hassayampa district, and in the future there will be no further interruptions in carrying out the large exploration outlined," said E. M. Anderson, yesterday the mining operator, who returned a few days ago from Oskaloosa, Iowa.

Anderson secured this gold group from Birch Bros. some time ago, and performed considerable initial development, in sinking a shaft, the showing being attractive. He was called to the east two months ago, to consult with associates and arrangements were closed by which the work would go ahead as contemplated.

The group is situated in Hassayampa district, and from surface showings, and development given, conditions are reported to be decidedly attractive for the making of a big producer of the yellow metal. That zone of the district is undergoing a pronounced revival in activity, and time mines again being active, as well as other properties under negotiation of sale, since the Wilhelm have closed several deals, and started work.

TWO DIE IN FLAMES.

TERRE HAUTE, Dec. 18.—Two were killed and several injured in a fire which destroyed a large rooming house early today. The dead are Lucas Alexander, a cripple, and Chester Rowley, son of the rooming house keeper.

FLIMPY CASES MUST STOP, SAYS JUDGE

(From Saturday's Daily.)

On and after the first day of January Judge Charles H. McLane is going to place in vogue a new rule in his office, and one which is sure to prove beneficial in more ways than one. Under the law he is privileged when a person wishes to file a criminal complaint with him direct, involving a charge which is likely to result in a trial in the superior court after he is through with it, to investigate the grounds upon which such complaint is based, and advise the complaining party, or parties, as to whether they have probable grounds upon which to base an action. For the purpose of making this rule effective he can call for and secure witnesses other than the complaining parties. This rule only applies to cases which are proposed before his court. In all cases where the county attorney files an information he has no authority to invoke such a procedure. It is a rule which is designed to prevent the filing of so many complaints which have no basis upon which to warrant the accused being bound over in a preliminary trial, and to thus save expense and trouble.

Discharges Boys.

On information of a colored man named A. L. Lowe, Joe Engle was tried yesterday and released. The complaint alleged that he had kicked the young son of the complaining witness on last Halloween night. The case was started soon after the alleged misdemeanor was said to have taken place, but Mr. Engle was not in town for trial until yesterday. It was shown that the boys were throwing stones at the house of Mr. Engle. The colored boy who was alleged to have been kicked testified that he was told by other boys that Engle had kicked him. His evidence was not positive and all that could be done in the case was to dismiss it.

Another boy case was of similar import, so far as the evidence was concerned. It was that of Theodore Bellus, under age, accused by J. R. Coats of having used vile and profane language. Mr. and Mrs. Coats testified that they had offered not to prosecute the boy if he would pay a board bill amounting to $8.25 which they alleged he owed them. They also testified to the use of profane language by the Bellus boy, but the evidence was not sufficient in the mind of the judge to send the boy to the juvenile court for further hearing and he was discharged.

STOCKFOOD TEST LAUNCHED AT FARM

(From Saturday's Daily.)

E. H. Meek said yesterday that in interesting cattle and feed demonstration had been launched at the experimental farm which promises to be of great value to stock raisers and ranch men in this section of the state.

For some time there has been a question among stock men as to the comparative value of ensilage and alfalfa as a food for cattle, many having the idea that silos are useless, and that plain alfalfa is as good for cattle and less expensive than ensilage. To the end of making a practical demonstration the management of the experimental farm has purchased two small herds of the same breed of cattle, all about the same age with which to make an experiment. These cattle will be weighed on a certain date and each herd placed in a separate feeding pen. One herd will be fed for forty days on plain alfalfa and the other will be fed on ensilage. At the end of forty days they will be weighed again, the result of which will prove which method has been the most successful in adding weight to the bovines. The expense of the feed used and the price of beef would figure in the calculations, making the demonstration perfect in every particular.

Mr. Meek is a strong advocate of ensilage and silos. He says that the cement silo is one of the most wonderful things in the cattle business that has ever been discovered, and advises stock raisers in Northern Arizona to install them as a means of increasing their profits and utilizing a class of feed which, unprepared, is not of the most nutritious value and much of which would simply go to waste. This practical test will be watched with absorbing interest by those interested. At the close of the test results will be made public.

By the way, Mr. Meek says that the statement in the Journal-Miner recently that ensilage juice is intoxicating has more truth than poetry attached to it. He did not say, however, that he had tried it himself, but declared that "the juice in the experimental farm silos smells just like beer."

WILL MILL ORE ON THE GROUND

(From Friday's Daily.)

A. E. Smith of the mining firm of Smith & Houston, operating on Pine Flat, was in the city yesterday and stated the treating of several tons of ore from the two groups owned would take place at the Cumberland mill, and steam would be up in a short time, the plant having been leased.

Smith is quite elated over the showing made on his properties, which have been under operation steadily during the summer. The values are an ounce in gold, 34 ounces in silver, and with copper as a factor. Smith also stated the big camp of the future in that belt would be at the Dolphin, where a mill is going up under the direction of Prof. Temme. There a large tonnage is ready without taking into consideration the ores ready for blocking. The coming of rain and snow assures plenty of water for future mill runs.

SCATTERED MINES.

LONDON, Dec. 18.—Four steamers were sunk by mines off that portion of the coast of England which was bombarded Wednesday by German warships, which it is believed scattered mines to cover their retreat. So far seven are known to have been drowned.

Proceedings of the Board Of Supervisors of Yavapai County, Arizona.

OFFICE OF BOARD OF SUPERVISORS, YAVAPAI COUNTY, ARIZONA.

Prescott, Arizona, November 20, 1914.

Board of Supervisors of Yavapai County, Arizona, met pursuant to adjournment on Friday, November 20th, 1914, at 10:00 o'clock, A. M. Present: William Stephens, Chairman; Harry Heap, Member; R. T. Belcher, Clerk.

Mr. D. H. Moore appeared before the Board and stated that an error of one day had been made in his own time and also the time of one of his teams employed on the road between Ash Fork and the Coconino County Line, for the period ending October 31st, 1914. Mr. John Goodman accompanied Mr. Moore and stated that he had been driving Mr. Moore's team, and that the time of this team should be shown as fourteen instead of thirteen days. Mr. Moore was advised by the Board of file a demand against the County for the amount due him.

The following claims were taken up and audited, and upon motion, warrants in payment of same were ordered drawn upon the Expense Fund, to-wit:
